

Supplies for Beaded Wrap Bracelet or Mask Chain class

There are very few beads stores left around here so I buy supplies online. If you want to touch and see things, go to Michaels (you will be able to buy everything but the beads), the quality is not great but it is good per a personal and first time project. Online stores that I like are artbeads.com, eurekacrystalbeads.com and firemountaingems.com

1) FOUR tubes of SuperDuo Beads (can get miniduo beads if want to work smaller)

<https://www.eurekacrystalbeads.com/superduo-beads/>

Fire Mountain calls them twin beads (would need 4, 10 grams packages)

Art Beads Selection (would need four tubes)

<https://artbeads.com/superduo/>

2) One Tube of small seed beads that complement your Superduo's. You can use a variety of sizes but make sure they are small, here are some examples that could work. size 8, 10 or 11 will work (also called 8-0, 10-0 or 11-0)

3) Soft Flex Wire - some form of flexible beading wire. The higher the number of strands, the more flexible. Buy a flexible wire since you will be wrapping around your wrist. Here are two examples, you can buy this from any beading websites.

4) Crimp beads (make sure you have 4 at least)

5) One lobster clasp for the bracelet* or two for the mask chain. *If you are making a bracelet and would prefer to use a button closure, you will not need a lobster clasp, but you will need a button with a shank.

You can buy any finish you would like (silver or gold) and any size lobster clasp that you can manipulate easily with your fingers.

Here is a very inexpensive option of a combo pack BUT you can buy higher quality ones on bead websites

6) You could also use at least one (or two if you have) bead stoppers like this BUT you could use a small binder clip or tape if you don't have these. If you will not be beading after this, don't bother buying these (they are a luxury).

6) Open or closed jump ring (preferably closed): <https://www.michaels.com/bead-landing-jump-rings-10-millimeter-rhodium/10443022.html?productsource=PLPRV>
(Need one for a bracelet or two for a mask chain)
